CAPAY RAILROAD.—We learn the projectors of the Capay and Elkhorn narrow gauge railroad are getting considerably stirred up, since there is a prospect of the extension of the Yaville road northward. This is just what we have anticipated, and unless they act soon they will find that they have dallied too long over the matter and let the golden opportunity slip. How many towns have been ruined in this way, just by allowing themselves to be outstripped by their neighbors. Especially has this been the case since the dawn of the railroad era. So it may be very soon with this place. Let a road tap Capay Valley and carry its trade in another direction, and another line perhaps cut us off by running three or four miles to the westward, thus diverting the traffic of another large and wealthy region of country into other channels—where then will the support come from to sustain and build up a thriving town? But something is being done in this direction; about $40,000 having been subscribed. $60,000 would bring it to Woodland and $100,000 through to Elkhorn, on the Sacramento river. If some of our substantial men would take hold of this matter we believe it could be pushed through to a success. But there has got to be more done in the way of real business before we shall have much confidence in the project. And we will here predict that unless the matter is taken up in earnest very soon, Woodland will suffer seriously in the way we have indicated. Our capitalists should make a move.

I. O. R. M.—Shawnee Tribe improved Order of Red Men of this place has received an invitation from the Order in Sacramento to participate with them in the exercises to be held in the Turn Verein Hall on the evening of the 22nd of February, in commemoration of the anniversary of the birth of George Washington. Doubtless a large delegation of the Shawnees will respond by their presence on the occasion referred to.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—The Woodland Turn Verein, at their regular meeting on the 6th of January, elected the following officers who were duly installed on Wednesday evening last by Ex-President Schindler: N. Schardin, President; H. Arnold, Secretary; P. Krellenberg, Treasurer; H. Kuhn, Turn Leader; H. Broder, Steward; Otto Schuler, E. Hoernlein and Wm. Keller, Trustees.

RELIEF FOR THE KANSAS SUFFERERS.—Wells, Fargo & Co. have received up to this time in this State the grasshopper region $3,000.50 in coin, and $49 in currency. There is a subscription paper still open at the office in this place which Mr. Moses informs us will remain open the balance of this week. Here is an opportunity for the benevolent to do good to their needy fellow men.

BROWN DOWN.—It is seldom we have to record anything like buildings being blown down by the wind in this vicinity. During the late violent wind, however, Mr. N. Grayson, six miles from here, had his sheep barn blown down. Out of six hundred sheep sheltered in it only six were killed. This was very fortunate, for the loss of the barn is heavy, having cost about $80.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.—This is generally the order now throughout our pleasant little burg. The ground works nicely, and teams are disengaged, so that now is the best time of year for this kind of work. With very little expense in the way of grading up and graveling our streets and putting out shade trees, our town can be very materially beautified, even beyond its natural beauty.

JUST RIGHT.—We hear very little grumbling about the weather now from any quarter. A light shower a few days ago after the drying north wind, moistened the surface and has been followed by warm weather, so that the newly sown grain has come up and the early sown has assumed a brighter color. All is lovely at present in this locality.

OFF FOR HIS NEW HOME.—Jeremiah Friel, an old resident of this county, left yesterday for the southern part of the State where he has purchased land and intends to make his future home.

SCHOOL ELECTION.—We would call the attention of the residents of Yolo School District to the notice of an election soon to take place in that district.

SUPERVISORS.—The regular monthly meeting of the Board will occur on Monday next.

Our Public Roads.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT.—As the question of roads is at present disturbing public equanimity in various ways in this locality, I claim, the indulgence of your readers for a few brief remarks upon the subject. The questions that would naturally present themselves in the consideration of this subject are: Have we roads? Are they in good order? What does the convenience of the traveling public demand?

In answer to the first, it may be said that the country has been settled for twenty years; that every inconvenience to travelers and to individual farmers arising from a want of roads has been remedied, and that we now have a road upon every section of land. In fact we have such a complication of highways running in every conceivable direction without any apparent terminal object, that this bewildering to a traveler who has a clearly defined idea of his destination.

The condition of the roads is beyond description. It can only be understood and appreciated by experience. The individual who can make the trip from Antelope to Cashville in any ordinary vehicle without being absorbed by a mudhole or transfixed on a stump, should be awarded a certificate for distinguished engineering ability. In many places stumps are standing near the middle of the road, or, worse still, the stumps remain from which the stumps have been burned.

These thoroughfares present three phases during the year. In winter they are soft and plastic, retaining the holes, crevices, deep cuts and prominences. This is the first phase. The spring winds come and render them as hard as rock, whereupon is presented the second phase. The shocking condition produced upon the spinal column by excursions during this phase is indescribable. When a track is worn through these adamantine futs and fissures, it is travelled so exclusively as to be cut down till the axle drags in the middle. These channels are of course filled with dust, which upon being stirred fills the air and covers the trees, fences and unfortunate wayfarers who may chance to pass along. These last constitute the third phase.

What does the general welfare demand in this matter? An addition to this muddling and incomprehensible network of ways and by-ways? More of these legal nuisances established to the detriment of our country? More of these miserable public dead-ends upon which the property and lives are imperiled? No! The public good demands that the number of these roads be not increased; so that we may have, by the proper application of our road money, a few good roads.

Death from Lignor and Exposure.

ANTLOPE, Tol. Co., Jan. 29th, 1875.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT.—This Christian and church-going community was terribly shocked the other day by a dead man being found about half a mile north of this place on the road leading from here to Colusa. It seems that a man by the name of Thomas Morris was out about four miles west of here chopping wood. The day being stormy and cold he told the man that was working for him that he would go and get a couple of drinks of whisky, which he did, and staid at the saloon from 7 o'clock to 9, drank three times and left, taking a bottle of whisky along with him. He fell his horse and had to face the wind which was very cold and strong. It seems that when about half a mile from town he laid down and placed the bottle under his head for a pillow and laid there until he died.

He was an honest, hard working man and good citizen. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his death. J. J. Clarke, Justice of the Peace, was called upon and proceeded to hold an inquest upon the body. A coroner's jury was sworn to investigate the matter. Following are the names of the jurymen: Robert Buckley, J. D. Thornton, W. H. H. Moore, W. H. Phillips, Lucius Wilkinson, Robert Kent. The testimony of six witnesses went to show that he was not drunk; that he was slightly under the influence of liquor. The verdict of the jury was, after hearing Dr. Z. F. Brown's testimony, that the died from the influence of liquor. "He was a native of Scotland, and 40 years of age."

ONCE-A-YEAR.

SAN FRANCISCO.—We obtain from Magee's Real Estate Circular the following resume of business in that line in San Francisco for the month of January:
The real estate sales made in January amounted to over $3,700,000. The highest previous value of one month's sales was attained in March, 1869; the number of the sales in it was 914, and their aggregate value was $4,721,273. The city is so much larger than it was in 1869, that sales of the value of $3,000,000 per month now would not be equal to more than $4,750,000 in 1869.

JUDGE HENRY.—The Mail asks where is Judge Henry. He is "another good man gone," having taken up his abode in the capital city, where we hope he has found all things to his liking.

BON-BON.—The party of this character which came off at Central Hall a few evenings since was well attended and passed off with much enjoyment and good cheer all round.

A REAL ART JOURNAL.—The February

Adeline is quite equal to the January number in variety, and it has one or two features of rare excellence. Artistically, there are few better drawings, and scarcely ever any better wood engravings than Keeping the Peace," and the three exquisite Views of the Conemaugh which follow. Two Pleasant Occupations, and The Fortunate Moment, are companion pieces, after Rudaux. Hunting the Stag is a noble full-page picture, well conveying that grand sport in the costumes and manner of the olden time; as singularly well drawn little picture without name shows two girls rolling about on the summer grass; and three views of Peterborough Cathedral make up the art contents of the number, really perfect enough to warrant the name: the Art Journal of America. The literature of the number, however, quite keeps pace with the pictures in excellence and variety. The leading papers are called Secret Facts in History, and Who was the Real Lady Macbeth? The editor once more airs his conservatism in a leader: Letting Things Alone—A Lost Art of the Present; followed by Mignon's Baby, The Pinker's Mantle, Vestiges of Summer, About Weeds, Charles Sumner's Art Legacy, Lost Lillian Bracy, and papers upon Music, Art, and Literature, make up a full justification of our charge of "infinite variety." Of rhymes, there is equal variety: My Early Bird, Questioning the New Year, Songs in Sleep, The New and the Old, and A Midwinter Serenade.

The Aldine Company has determined to establish an Art Union similar to the well known Art Union in England, and distribute its works of art, both sculpture and paintings, which are constantly collecting, among its subscribers. Art premiums, valued at $2,500, will be distributed among each series of 5,000 subscribers. Subscription tickets, at $9.00 each, entitle the holder to the Aldine for a year, to the new edition, and to a ticket in this distribution of art premiums in the Aldine Company, publishers, No. 55 Maiden Lane, New York City.

PROVISION FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB AND BLIND.—The Oakland Transcript of Jan. 30th contains the following:
A plan for a new building, near the site of the late asylum, destroyed by fire, prepared with due regard to safety, comfort and convenience has been completed. There is no doubt that it will be accepted by the Directors. Advancing civilization is next thing in order. The building is to be 120x60 feet in dimensions, and two stories in height, and built of wood. The exact location of the building is north from the present site. It is intended that rooms shall be set apart for a gymnasium, and a hospital for children afflicted with contagious diseases. There will be a large kitchen in the rear. The new edifice will be pushed forward to completion with all due haste compatible with thoroughness. The cost of it will be no greater than would be incurred by the fitting up and renting of a suitable building until such time as the permanent asylum, ordered at the next session of the Legislature, shall be completed. This temporary edifice will be fully re-opened on Wednesday, April 14th. The pupils will lose ten days of instruction, for a week of taking their usual summer vacation of ten weeks, they have their holiday during the erection of their home. The Principal and Directors, in deciding upon the above arrangements, have certainly exhibited excellent judgment, and have also had a due regard for the economic future of the State. It is to be feared that the helpless waifs entrusted to their keeping and protection.

DRESS IN CHURCH.—Nowhere, we are assured to say, is the taste of ostentation in dress more conspicuous than here. It seems as if, with many, the Sabbath was the grand occasion for display, and this cheek the place for self-exhibition. In no other country have we seen so much show and tinsel in the churches as in some of our own cities. In Europe not only in England, but on the Continent, such display is rigidly forbidden, not by law, but by the recognized canons of good taste. Nothing is considered more vulgar than to wear a dress of more value than the service of God, and the "new rich" who try to exhibit themselves in the house of God, but as that class is larger in this country than anywhere else, we have more of these wretched exhibitions. —Evening.

GRAND ISLAND LEVEE.

The Colusa Sun of the 30th ult., contains the following:
The breaks in the levee on the lower line of Judge Diefendorf's land, last night, is flooding a great deal of good land. After leaving the river the water flows north westerly over a great portion of Diefendorf's land and out by the "Point" on the Continent. The old place, the cut in the bank is well decayed to low-water mark. The trustees of the reclamation district talk of bringing up a pile-driver and undertaking to stop the flow of water now. The damage to Judge Diefendorf alone in preventing the putting in of his crops must be between five and ten thousand dollars.

During the flood in Marysville the cow of Mayor Hawley entered the parlour of his residence, and was drowned in the parlor. The State Board of Equalization has granted Tax Collector Austin, of San Francisco, until the first Monday in February to complete his delinquent list.

PRESIDENT GILMAN HAS DECIDED TO ACCEPT the Presidency of the Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore, and will present his resignation at the next meeting of the Board of Regents.

PAY UP.

As I am making my arrangements to leave Yolo County shortly, all persons indebted to the firm of READ & WELCH, either by note or book account, are requested to come forward at once and settle. I will make my headquarters at Stephen's drug store during the next thirty days for that purpose, and all matters of the firm not settled during that time will be handed over for collection forthwith.

A Triumph Over Humbug.

It is not difficult to alarm the timid, and it is not difficult to convince the glib, the vendors of pseudo bibles, and the peddlers of "miraculous" remedies, and no doubt have frightened a few sick folk into purchasing the various rubbish which they have sold. ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1874.

A Book for Boys and Girls.

Of this book CHARLES DUDLEY WARREN writes:
"In the bound volume of ST. NICHOLAS, with its glory of red and gold, we have a permanent addition to the literature of the young. Never before has so much literary and artistic talent co-operated in the service of children. It is a continual educator of their taste and of their honor and courage. I do not see how it can be made any better, and if the children don't read it I think it is time to change the kind of children in this country."

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1875.
The prospectus of the second volume shows that there is to be no falling off, but an increase in its literary and pictorial attractions. Among other attractive features are:
TWO SPLENDID SERIAL STORIES.
"The Young Surveyor," by J. T. TROWBRIDGE, author of the Jack Lincoln stories, etc.
"EIGHT COUSINS," by LUTHER M. ALCOCK, author of "Little Women," etc.

Only One.

The Sacramento Union, in classifying the Senate in the Forty-fourth Congress, puts down one Independent, which means Booth, of course, whereupon the Butte Record exclaims with the poet:

Tell me, ye winged winds,
That round in my ear,
Is there no place where Independents
Can be found, a score?

Is there not some silent place?
Some hollow in the ground,
Where, by industry and grace,
Another Booth is found?

The winds, by echo and by sound,
Said, "Not another Booth is found."

A Representative and Champion of American Art Taste!

Prospectus for 1875—9th year.

THE ALDINE.

THE ART JOURNAL OF AMERICA, ISSUED MONTHLY.

"A MAGNIFICENT CONCEPTION WONDERFULLY CARRIED OUT."

The necessity of a popular medium for the representation of the productions of our great artists has always been recognized, and many attempts have been made to meet the want. The successive failures which so invariably followed each attempt in this country to establish an art journal, did not prove the indifference of the people of America to the claims of high art. So soon as a proper appreciation of the want and an ability to meet it were shown, the public at once rallied with enthusiasm to its support, and the result was a great artistic and commercial triumph in "THE ALDINE."

"THE ALDINE," while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or fad-like interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light, and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of "THE ALDINE" will be most appreciated after it is bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, "THE ALDINE" is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached as yet in the history of the press.

The national feature of "THE ALDINE" is its cosmopolitan. While "THE ALDINE" is a strictly American publication, it does not confine its attention to the reproduction of native art. Its mission is to cultivate a broad and appreciative taste, one that will discriminate upon all grounds of intrinsic merit. Thus, while including before the patrons of the production of the most noted American artists, attention will always be given to specimens from foreign masters, giving subscribers all the pleasure and instruction obtainable from home or foreign sources.

The artistic illustration of American scenery, and its magnificent plates are of a size more appropriate to the satisfaction of the artist than can be afforded by any inferior paper. The judicious interposition of instructive, and, in some cases, animal subjects, sustain an unabated interest, impossible where the scope of the work confines the artist too closely to a single style of subject. The literature of "THE ALDINE" is a light and graceful accompaniment, worthy of the artistic features, with only such technical disquisition as does not interfere with the popular interest of the work.

PREMIUM FOR 1875.

Every subscriber for 1875 will receive a beautiful portrait, in oil colors, of the same noble dog whose picture in a former issue attracted so much attention.

"Man's Unselfish Friend"

will be welcome in every home. Everybody loves such a dog, and the portrait is executed so true to the life, that it seems the veritable presence of the animal itself. The Rev. J. De Witt Talmage tells that his own Newfoundland dog, who lived in Brooklyn, was at the establishment of the establishment.

Although so natural, no one who sees this premium chromo will have the slightest fear of being deceived.

Besides the chromo, every advance subscriber to "THE ALDINE" for 1875 is constituted a member, and entitled to all the privileges of the ALDINE ART UNION.

The Union owns the originals of all "THE ALDINE" pictures, which, with other paintings and engravings, are to be distributed among the members. To every series of 500 subscribers, 100 different plates, and 500 copies of the "ALDINE" are to be distributed as the series is full, and the awards of each series as made, are to be included in the next succeeding issue of "THE ALDINE." This feature only applies to subscribers who for one year or longer, have been in the Union, and the certificate of membership, bearing the fac-simile signature of JAMES SUTTON President.
